

I heard the sounds of fun
Coming from the tall grass
Different voices were singing in the wind:
Chirping of crickets, wasp buzz
Croaking of frogs, rustling of dragonflies
I feel happier this spring!!

LIFE

History of the canary

A currently bred canary comes from, a still living wild canary Serinus canaria, whose home is the Canary Islands and Madeira. A wild canary is different from a present canary mainly in the fact that it is slimmer, more delicate and has a smoother structure like a pen, making it skillful in movement. Today's canaries come from a mixture of blood related species such as (red siskin - Carduelis cucullatus, Serin - Serinus Serinus).
