

Project Task: Our interactive image

With pictures, photos from Europeana / Amnesty / Unicef, teachers create a collage for an interactive image where students describe familiar or unfamiliar aspects they can recognize in it on Forum. This magazine is a kind of summary of this task.

Iwona G.

What do you think this person will be like in a few years?

What do you think this person would like to tell you? To ask you? What would you tell him/her.

Global Citizens - With this eTwinning project seven project groups from Italy, Greece, Poland, Spain and Georgia want to raise interest toward Human Rights and promote appreciation of the common citizenship of humanity among students. Working in international teams pupils will think about the concept of rights, increase their awareness of the universality of human rights and develop a better attitude towards common values like respect, understanding, sharing, tolerance and empathy.

Alicja Mucha

Images should be similar and convey the idea of people who are in need because of war or other problems. They are similar to us. We shouldn't be afraid if they come to our countries. We should help them and welcome not refuse them.

Filip W.

I believe these people if they could talk to me they would like to tell me to help them because they can't take this situation they are in anymore and they would tell me that their families are probably in war and they have no one. I would tell them that there is nothing I can do because I'm only a child but the only thing I can do is spread the message to the world.

ioa-chrysa m

europa.eu

Caterina

These women would like to ask me about the situation, the human rights in my country and if the women here fight for their liberties. Has she ever thought of giving up? They would like to tell me about their fights and ask me about education in my country. I would ask if they were supported by their families. They would tell me about their experience and they would like to know the human conditions in my country. I would like to tell them that they are real heroes and ask them how they survived. ioa-amalia m

They want to tell us that they do not have food, water, homes, schools to learn, hospitals.... I would tell them that in Sapin there is everything they want and that they have our help for everything.

Chami Luciag

Children will tell me about their hard life and I would tell them they have the right to live in peace and go to school. alpi elenaf

I think they tell me: I'd like to live in the same way as you.

Chami Lauram

The women tell us people don't want them in the world and hurt them. I'll say they will have a better life and people will respect them. The girl asks for a better future and education. I'll tell her she has to be honest and people will accept her as a usual girl with human rights. The kids tell us they want someone who cares about them, a house, some food and their human rights. I'll tell them they will have what they want and they won't suffer from these problems.

ioa-margarita l

They would ask me if I struggle with problems in my country. I would tell them that problems are similar to theirs, such as poverty.

ioa-lamrini h

I think that all of them want to tell me that they need help.

I would like to tell them I will fight for a better future for you, friends.

ioa-miltos a

Malala would tell women to be strong and to not allow anyone to put himself between you and your dreams.

Alpi Roshellyr

Malala would give me an advice, never give up and follow your dreams.

alpi elisab

I think they want to tell me that they need food, a home to live in, a school to study, learn and have rights. I would tell them that our country will do everything in our power so that they can get food, medicines, have studies and a place to live without wars and that women have rights.

Chami Miriamc

They will tell me that I am a lucky boy, that I study hard because education is an important right for everyone.

albi matteon

Women can asks me why there is violence in the world, why all people do not have the same rights! Children could tell me about the poverty or their problems in education.

I will try to help you to have a better future without poverty and war!

ioa-melina t

They would like to tell me: "I would like to live in the same way as you" and they would ask me "Why don't we have the same rights? I'm a child too .The world is unfair. What could you do for helping me?" And I tell him that I'm going to fight in my country so children around the world have everything they deserve (education, food, home...)

Chami Abeli

Stamatia

EBC

If women could tell me something, they would tell me to claim all my rights. I would respond I will definitely do my best. The children would ask me to help their nasty condition. I would tell them I will do everything I can to help them. I will inform others to help them too.

ioa-melina l

I think that they want to tell me: I usually like to live in the same way as you.

Chami Lauram

Photo 1: I think he wants to tell me that there are children who do not have food and they have to look for it in the trash will wonder why he is so unfortunate.

Photo 2: I think he feels unhappy about having to leave his country and he will aks why there are wars.

Photo 3: She would tell me to take the opportunity of studying because other girls do not have it.

Photo 4: I think he would tell me to figth to get women to have the some rigths as men.

Photo 5: He would say that because humans allow children to die of illness or hunger.

Chami Glendat

The people in the photo would ask me that all people have rights to be respected.

alpi giuliap

I think we would be asked if we are happy with our lives, if they treat us well, if women are equal to men, if everyone can go to school, etc. I would tell them that this country is not perfect but we have many more opportunities but sometimes that does not happen. I know that there are people who try to make a better world.

Chami Mariamu

What do you think the person in the photo would like to tell you? To ask you? What would you tell him/her.

Kolaz

SS

I'd like to tell them nothing wrong will happen, everything will be fine. They say that we have the hope that will fulfill our dreams and thank you for support.

Kristine Motsonelidze

I believe that they will ask us if we are fine with our lives, if they treat fair, if women are equal to men, if everyone can go to school. I would say this country is not perfect but we have more opportunities but sometimes that does not happen. There are people who try to make a fairer world.

Chami Mariamu

I would tell them to have courage and be strong because their life is really difficult.

alpi selamut

I'd ask Malala what can I do to be strong and she would tell me to fight for my ideas.

alpi giorgiad

I think he would ask me for help with food and water and I would give him that for sure.

Mariam Baratashvili

I'd like to tell them everything is possible. Problems will be solved soon. I'd like to give them food and money as well. I think they'd tell me about their problems.

Lizi Bukhaidze

“An empty stomach is not a good political adviser.”

– Albert Einstein

I believe, that these children will have a successful future and they will get a good job. I hope that their government will give them an opportunity for school education and help them to work on their professions, to show their hidden talents to the world. Their families will be proud of them and finally they will get some happiness.

Lizi Bukhaidze

Women are HUMAN, too. The way that they treat us, the women, is like we are some kind of garbage. This situation is unacceptable and whoever in this world has a different opinion is a heartless animal.

Malala talks to me: "I was a kid when they attacked me for going to school and wanting to have a better life when I grow up. Do you think that kids should go to school? Kids not been educated are not an option for me. Every child on this planet must learn the basics so that in the future they can have a better life". War, poverty and diseases have destroyed our lives and eventually they'll take our lives. Don't you think our lives should be equal to yours? What's happening in this world is disgusting and wrong in so many ways. Kids like you and me should have the right to do or learn the same things. If I could I would take away all the bad things in this life so all children could live happily.

ioa-asimina k

1. He will tell me: You will fight for your family and for your job. He will ask me: Do you have a family?

I tell him: You are a good person.

2. He will tell me: You will fight for your dreams.

He will ask me: What are your dreams? I tell him: You are a work person.

3. She will tell me: You will study for the future. She will ask me: Do you like study?

I tell her: You are a good person because defend de study.

4. She will tell me: You won't be scary.

She will ask me: You are a valiant person?

I tell her: You are a valiant person.

5. He will tell me: You will work hard and stay positive. He will ask me:

You work hard? I tell him: You are a hard person.

Chami Sergioa

They would ask me: How does your school look like?

Do you go there every day? What do you do to get food? Is it difficult? Do you eat every day? Why life is so sad? so unfair? I am not sure if I could say something... I think I wouldn't be strong enough to answer those questions. I would cry...

Alicja Mucha PL

World is a place with full of war and angriness,so beacuse of that a lot of Innocent people become victims.The children we see in pictures are victims of war and they don't deserve the life they live in. In the world there is so many human right defender for help people like them but there is still millions of poor people who doesn't even have water. I think in few years they will live in this poor life like they are today if they're gonna survive.

Mariam Baratashvili

If he asks me what he can do to be a successful person, I'll tell him: "You have to be brave, You must have goal in your life and you need help. I'll help you and make your life better."

Ina Robakidze

I tell them they reach everything in life and it will be good. Everybody has a moment of hardship, but everything will be good. Do not be afraid of bad moments and good thing will happen in your life. Everything will be solved.

Mzia Kirkitadze

I would be asked where they can look for help to change the world.... I hope I would be strong enough to promise them my help...

PL.Justyna Maka

Our world is harsh and too many humans rights are violating, especially children's. In my mind this baby will have provided future. He will be happy and successful. His future profession will be humans rights defender and he will do everything for children whose rights are violated.

Ina Robakidze

Looking for better future

What do you think the person in the photo will be like in a few years?

I hope in the future it will be less poverty so the children will grow happy and safe. I also think that in the future people will start to respect women's rights.

alpi aiordiad

What can I do?

SS

Women rights are also Human Rights. Women will be unstoppable. We are going to change the world.

Chami Lauram

I hope all the children in the photo will live in peace and have food. I think Malala will help a lot of women in her future career.

alpi beatrixer

1. I hope the boy will have his own family, their children will go to school. They will get a job and they will never be hungry
2. The boy will have a good job in his country because the war is end.
3. She will be an intelligent woman and she will study in an university.
4. She will be a valiant woman because he defend the women rights and she won't be scary.
5. The boy will be a hard person and go to the other countries to save of the war in his country.

Chami Sergioa

I hope the world will fight for them to let them live in safe world with no hunger.

Alicja Mucha PL

I think the children in the photo will be happy and they will go to school with their friends.

alpi elenat

Children from different poverty-stricken areas suffer from deadly diseases - and it's sad. Their families don't have enough money to buy needed medicines. This problem happens mostly in Africa where the circumstances are really bad because of the homelessness and wars that happen there. It's such a pity that young people have to suffer this and especially children. Nobody should be in that place because nobody deserves it.

ioa-chrysa m

I think the children will all become warriors for human rights. They will be generous and they will help all people in need.

alpi matteop

It is difficult to agree with this point but I am afraid that it might be truth. They will suffer from famine. They will face with lack of food and unemployment. They will be very poor and they will live in the world full of injustice.

... if the world don't do something with this problem...

I can tell the world about the problems. We should join the global discussion and start acting!!!

PL.Justyna Maka

I believe that children will go to school without forbidding them.

They will have their own home and will not live on the street or get hungry.

I am afraid that as long as there are wars, children's lives are at risk.

And children will die, because they do not have food and essentials, and they are not protected from illnesses.

ioa-eleutherios

I think that the this woman will be very famous and a good reason for other women to fight for their liberty and human rights in the future.

Malala maybe accepted by everyone and give an important message about women and little girls in education in the society.

The boy will possibly fight hard for his future as a real hero because he lives unhuman conditions.

The other child will be a very good fighter with a lot of generosity like a real hero as he tries to survive in war at an early age.

This little child can be a useful person in the society as he knows to survive in his childhood.

ioa-amalia m

I think that these women will have a better life in the future and people will respect them.

This girl could have the right to go to school and become a great leader.

These children may have a house, a family, food and someone who cares about them.

Children all around the world suffer from lots of problems. We can all agree that most of them are caused by adults they want their lives to be "better". Students, especially from countries such as Ethiopia, Sudan and others struggle to live an ordinary life, because the food and water are not enough. Others, specifically girls from Iran, Pakistan and others are forbidden to go to school and learn.

Children who live like that could fight for their rights and in 10 years from now they will live as they always wanted and deserved.

ioa-lamprini

I think one child will become a great chef and he will be brave, the other child will become a police officer and he will fight for justice. Malala will continue to fight for human rights. One child will become a doctor to help unlucky people

alpi elisab

Women's rights still hasn' been accepted by everyone. Malala has accomplish her mission and every child has the chance to be educated.

I don't want to say it but unfortunately poverty and war will not disappear or stop. Kids need suffer from them, they need help from us for a better life.

ioa-asimina k

I hope these children will have food and will be happy. In my opinion Malala will win another prize for her fight for human rights.

alpi selamut

1)By my opinion this boy will be good in future and he will go school. This boy is really hero,because he lives dangerous place.

2)This child is so cute. He needs food, but by my opinion he will become a good person,also he'll study at school and in the university, too.

3)This child is so destressed from life.He need someone who'll care of it. He needs food and suitable place for live.

4)This women is strong,unstappable and brave.By my opinion this women will change something in the world.

Mzia Kirkitadze

These children live in a torn-war country, they would tell me about their lives and about the problems in their countries.

alpi giuliap

Women will soon gain the rights and respect they deserve.

The girl will become a great woman who will fight for girls' rights in education. Children will hardly manage to find a home, or to escape from the hardships and serious illnesses.

ioa-melina l

It is sad that children have no home, food or water to survive.

They look in the trash for food and die. They face war and the death of loved ones. It is sad that girls are deprived of school. girls are in danger of being killed by fanatics. It is sad that women are being abused and afraid to speak.

ioa-frensi d

In a few years, the women will choose not to remain silent.

Chami Silviai

He will not have his own home.

He will suffer from famine.

He will be unemployed.

She will live in a male chauvinist society. She will have obesity.

Chami Miriamc

I think this boy on the photo hasn't food. He's sad. He will become kind human, who helps all people in need. This girl is distressed. She isn't happy. I hope she will go to school. She will be successful woman. This child lives in Africa and hasn't milk or food necessary for his health. This child will die.

Elene Gurguchiani

I hope the world will be a better place for them. They will go to school and learn how to change the world. They will never remember what famine is.

Pl.Jakub Wozniak

I think these children in photo will be happy and they will live without problems. They will be generous and help all people in need.

In my opinion, they will have the best future and create a happy family. They will be useful humans for the world.

Kristine Motsonelidze

They should have right to live in the world with schools, food, and the respect of human rights.

Iwonka Grzeszczak PL

Show respect

In the first photo, the child won't go to school. He hasn't got the necessary resources. In the second one, the child will live in a poverty and will wander from one place to another to subsist. In the third, Malala will be with a great culture and a great defender of human rights. In the fourth, they won't get women to keep quiet and stop fighting for the rights. Next, this child will die of malnutrition if he does not receive help from more developed countries.

Chami Manuelac

I think woman's position is going to be better in a few years. Women are already in a good situation, because a few years ago they couldn't have a job or attend education.

Children in a few years may not live in poverty and they will have their own money to live happily.

ioa-melina t

I hope those children deserve what is the best. When they grow up they will live in the world of happiness with a lot of love. They will never know what the lack of food is. I keep my fingers crossed.

PL.Alan Ziemski

I think Malala will be a great politician and I hope all the children will live in a better world.

In the first picture, we can see a boy who is looking for rubbish. I think that this boy will be a refugee, he will live in a refugee camp with few resources. He will not go to school and he will be illiterate. We think that this boy fled from the war, now is living in a refugee camp with few resources, and he will live in this place forever. Malala will fight for the education of others persons, she will be a teacher. This woman will be a good person and will fight for the human rights's of other women.

This boy, will be died because, he will have not resources.

Chami Albertog

I believe the children in the photo will be great teenagers and young people who will create a better world with no hunger no wars!!!!

They will live in the world with a lot of love, happiness and food for everybody.

PL.Filip Wrobel