

Wisława Szymborska is dead!

The winner of the Nobel Prize, our beloved, unique and exceptional poet, Wisława Szymborska died on February 1, 2012 in her apartment in Cracow. She passed away in her dream so peacefully and quietly as she was in her life.

True love. Is it normal
is it serious, is it
practical?
What does the world get
from two people
who exist in a world of
their own?

(extract from True Love)

Life on one shore, death on the other.

Here hope and there
despair.

The joy of writing.
The power of preserving.
Revenge of a mortal hand.

Writing*)

Our Noblist

was born on 2nd July 1923. No one is sure where exactly. Some claim it was Bnin, others present Kórnik as her birthplace. But there is no doubt that she was one of the greatest Polish poets of modern times. Soon the Szymborscy moved to Cracow, where Wisława attended public school, and later Gimnazjum Sióstr Urszulanek. In 1941 she secretly graduated from school. After the war she started her Polish studies at the Jagiellonian University. Then she worked for cultural magazines.

The four elements

AIR

The air is colourless, odourless, tasteless, slightly soluble in water. Liquefied atmospheric air is faintly blue. Air [Latin:AER] means the homogeneous mixture of gases constituting the earth atmosphere.

LOVELY WORDS

Dear Valentine,
I send my
heart, affection,
dear and true

because this heart
that is my own
belongs to only
you. I cannot tell in words alone just all
you mean to me, and yet I send
my fondest
thoughts that surely
you shall see.

You gave me a wandering wind,
Birds key in the sky,
You gave me the whole world
The whole world without each other.

THE LEGEND OF ST. VALENTINE...

The legend says
St. Valentine was in a prison cell thinking of his little flock he had always loved so well
and wanting to assure them of his friendship and his love. He picked a bunch of violets and
sent them by a dove.

Artist painting with his mouth and legs

Stanisław Kmiecik was born in 1971 in Klęczany near Nowy Sącz. As he's got no arms since his birth, he paints with his mouth and legs. And his passion for painting started when he was only five. Despite this obstacle he manages surprisingly well and his paintings look extremely

On the 6th February 2012 class 4C and their teacher Mrs Katarzyna Pawłowska were in the Art Palace.

The students from form 4C were watching the exhibition of the unusual artist with a lot of interest. The children liked all the pictures presented at the exhibition. It was really hard to believe that the author of the works was a disabled person.

The picture of a horse (on the left) looks very imposing. You can almost feel the wind in your hair.

The picture of a forest in autumn (below the one with the deer) has some magic in it and, like all works of Stanisław Kmiecik, is full of tiny

All photographs were taken by Konrad Tabak.

To sum up, Stanisław Kmiecik is an exceptional artist who paints his pictures brilliantly not only with his mouth and legs but also his heart. His paintings look so realistic that they may be mistaken for authentic photos!

The picture below shows a deer in winter. Doesn't it look gorgeous?!

We liked the autumn house most (the painting below). There is special atmosphere of peace and happiness.

The princess on the nails

Once upon a time there was a prince who wanted to marry a princess,

a real princess, as he constantly repeated. However, he was bored of the princesses he had met before - all so moody and delicate that even the tiniest pea could irritate them.

One sunny day it happened that a beautiful girl came to the kingdom. She claimed she was a real princess. The old queen, the prince's mother wanted to check it. She knew the traditional way how to learn if a princess was a princess indeed. She prepared a bed with a tiny mattress. There she put a hundred nails under it and invited the girl to sleep there. The next day the queen asked: " Did you sleep well?" " Oh, just wonderful", the girl replied. "It means you're not a real princess!"

Chair by George Peters (above)

the queen shouted. "But she's the girl I've been waiting for!" said the prince. He finally found a perfect candidate for his wife.

The prince and the princess got married. But instead of wedding rings they were wearing nails on their fingers...
